

The Lineage Project
Volunteer Teachers
Part-time Positions

The Lineage Project supports youth from at risk environments by offering yoga, meditation and other awareness-based practices. Our program operates in collaboration with local community-based organizations, schools, and New York City and State detention facilities.

We regularly recruit volunteer teachers of yoga, meditation, and other awareness-based practices to join our team. Creativity, flexibility and an understanding of culturally diverse youth is desirable. Volunteer teachers work in teams in order to create a safe and supportive environment, and must be available for three to four hours each week for effective planning, teaching and evaluation.

Lineage teachers are committed to personal and professional development. Through service we are able to deepen our personal practices while honoring our shared lineage – the lineage of the heart. Volunteer teachers are asked to make a three to six month commitment to the organization. During this time they work closely with experienced teachers learning the Lineage curriculum and teaching priorities. Teachers attend an orientation and quarterly meetings to share experiences, develop skills and further the collective vision of the Project.

We partner with community based organizations and state and city detention facilities. Our current sites are:

- Horizons Juvenile Detention Center, Bronx
- Bridges Juvenile Detention Center, Bronx
- Office of Children and Family Services, Carroll Street Residence, Brooklyn
- Job Corps, Brooklyn
- The Fortune Society, Long Island City

We are working to establish additional sites for volunteer opportunities and will do our best to work with your schedule preferences.
